MICHAEL O'MARA BOOKS

How To Draw EVERYTHING

Gillian Johnson

This is the book to take away your fear of the blank page...

Many of us are unlocking our arty sides for relaxation - through colouring and drawing - and illustrator Gillian Johnson is here to teach you how to let your inner artist out to play. Whether you're nine or ninety-nine, her warm-up exercises and easy projects will enable you to put down that digital device and pick up some paper. She'll start you sketching, and you'll learn new and satisfying skills along the way.

Gillian has suffered from drawer's block and these are the tips she used to rediscover the joy of drawing, turning off the voices that said her work 'wouldn't be good enough'. In these pages even the absolute beginner has the freedom to create.

Don't understand perspective? Shaky on your shading? Never really managed people at school? Don't worry, Gillian's sound advice and fun, unintimidating practice suggestions will have drawing like a master in no time, producing work you're proud of. And anyone - honestly, anyone - can do it!

Includes:

Let's Get Scribbling • Drawing Exercises • The Visual Workout • Draw a House • Finger Painting • Splodges • Easy Perspective • Light and Dark, Form and Shadow • Drawing People & Faces • Animals • How to Draw the Things You Can't Draw • Monsters • Dress These Folks • Flowers and Friends
